At least one person has been killed and several others injured following a drone and missile attack on Kuwait International Airport, according to the country's Foreign Ministry. The attack also caused damage to key airport infrastructure and diplomatic facilities.

In a statement posted on social media platform X on Wednesday (June 3), the Kuwaiti government said the assault targeted civilian and sensitive installations, including airport terminals. The attack resulted in casualties and significant damage to multiple facilities.

According to the ministry, some of the affected structures were linked to embassies and diplomatic missions.

Blaming Iran for the incident, Kuwait's Foreign Ministry said ballistic missiles and drones were used in what it described as a series of ongoing attacks. The ministry strongly condemned the strikes.

Kuwait also warned that it reserves the full right to take necessary measures in response to any attack against its sovereignty and national security.

Iran has not yet issued any official response regarding the allegations.

The incident has raised fresh concerns over the security situation in the Gulf region.
