US sends back Indians hand and foot tied even after Modi meeting!!

According to news agency PTI, an illegal immigrant who returned from the US on Saturday night claimed that they were brought onto the plane in handcuffs. Not only that, the illegal immigrant claimed that their feet were also shackled.

Earlier, on February 5, the country deported 104 people. At that time, their hands and feet were tied in chains. This caused widespread criticism in the Indian political arena.

A few days later, Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi met with US President Donald Trump. At that time, he called for "humane treatment of Indians." However, even after Modi's meeting with Trump, the US again sent back Indian migrants in chains.

Before the second round of Indians being deported, Congress leader P Chidambaram posted a post on X yesterday. In it, he said that the migrants being deported this time are a test for Indian diplomacy. In his opinion, it remains to be seen whether the position of the Americans has changed after Modi met Trump. However, Indian diplomacy has failed miserably. This time too, the country's citizens have been sent back with their hands and feet tied.

The Congress leader wrote on Twitter, "All eyes will be on the US plane bringing back illegal immigrants that will land at Amritsar airport. What ropes will be tied to their hands and feet? This is a test for Indian diplomacy."
