

Has Nahid Islam resigned as adviser?

Information Adviser Nahid Islam met with Chief Adviser Dr Muhammad Yunus on Sunday night

Information Adviser Nahid Islam met with Chief Adviser Dr Muhammad Yunus on Sunday night. For the past few days, media reports have claimed that Information Adviser Nahid Islam is resigning from the interim government's advisory council to become the head of a new party.

Amid these discussions, he met with Chief Adviser Dr Muhammad Yunus on Sunday night. Following this meeting, rumours spread about his resignation from the advisory position. However, the Chief Adviser's Office did not confirm the resignation. When contacted, an official told Bangla Tribune that the news was not true. "However, he (Nahid) did meet with the chief adviser on Sunday."
