At least seven Palestinians, including two children, were injured in Israeli attacks across different areas of the Gaza Strip, according to medical sources cited by Anadolu Agency.

The report said two people were injured after Israeli naval forces opened fire on tents sheltering displaced Palestinians in the Al-Khalidi area of northwestern Gaza City.

In a separate attack, a child was injured at another camp for displaced people in the Al-Sudaniya area of northwestern Gaza.

The Palestinian Red Crescent Society also reported that three people were injured in an Israeli airstrike in the Tuffah neighbourhood of northeastern Gaza City. A child suffering from shrapnel wounds in the same incident was also taken to hospital for treatment.

Meanwhile, the Palestinian news agency WAFA reported that four people were injured in attacks in the Tuffah and Al-Sudaniya areas.

According to various sources, since the ceasefire came into effect on October 11, at least 1,344 Palestinians have been killed and another 4,464 injured in Israeli military operations.
